WHY MILAN?

Milan has always been an important centre in Italy, as far as fashion and design are concerned. It is the core of Italian economy.

It is a historical city, with its own identity: the Cathedral, the Last Supper by Leonardo da Vinci, the Scala Theatre, Vittorio Emanuele 2nd Gallery, the churches, the palaces, the museums...

Milan is a symbol of elegance and style, it has nowadays become a really modern, avant-garde city: after Expo 2015, Milan's skyline was enriched by high skyscrapers, with their futuristic shape.

It is a European city, which can be easily reached in all its neighbourhoods. It offers culture, events, any kind of special occasions. It is a multicultural city, with its smart rooftops, its luxury restaurants and unmatched locations, where conferences and meetings are held.

CONFERENCE SEAT

MiCo - Milano Convention Centre

The project of MiCo-Milano Congressi was signed by the architect Mario Bellini for the outside and by the architect Pierluigi Nicolin for the internal spaces.

It was born from the reconversion of pavilions 5 and 6 of the Fieramilanocity Portello, which were turned into locations for congresses and meetings and joined the existing conference centre, after the projects by Mario Bellini in the 1990s.

It is among the biggest conference centres in Europe and in the world. It has got 2 conference rooms – 4,000 and 2,000 seats – and a large auditorium for 1,500 guests. It also has some exhibition rooms to be customized or prepared.
